Product Description

The exceptional fishing rod of Relix, with the revolutionary model Cangkek 632 xul, arrives for the first time in Greece, exclusively available from Hookit.gr. The Cangkek 632 xul is an ultimate ultra light rod, extremely elegant in design, that will satisfy even the most demanding anglers. The rod features 2 tubular carbon shanks, offering excellent flexibility and sensitivity when fishing. With a height of 1.90 meters and a weight of only 80 grams, it is the ideal choice for those looking for a light and versatile tool. The Lure Weight range from 0.5 to 5 grams allows the use of small baits. Its medium-fast action, combined with excellent parabolic action, make it suitable for fishing with mollies and slicks, as well as small minnows. In addition, it is an ideal choice for ultra light vertical fishing from a boat, as well as for ultra micro jigging. The excellent quality of the reed is guaranteed, as it is based on the high standards of the Fuji company. In addition, it features 7 Fuji guides that ensure smooth line movement and superior durability. The owner of the Cangkek 632 xul will enjoy an incredible fishing experience, thanks to the combination of advanced technology and excellent design offered by the Cangkek 632 xul from Hookit.gr.
